

CHRISTINE ARCHER

Keynote Speaker • Leadership Development Expert • Talent Strategist

“My Spark, Your Success.” | Sparking Dreams, Scaling Impact

MEET THE SPEAKER

Human-Centered Leadership for Measurable Results

“When people thrive, businesses win. I bridge the gap between high-level organizational goals and the everyday employee experience.”

Christine is a leadership development strategist and keynote speaker who helps people navigate the human moments at work with clarity, confidence, and connection. After two decades designing early-talent programs, manager capability experiences, and organizational development strategies for global companies, she brings a fresh, practical, human-centered voice to stages, classrooms, and corporate audiences.

Her talks blend storytelling, psychology, communication science, and real-world corporate experience to give audiences tools they can use immediately — whether they are stepping into their first job, leading a high-stakes team, or navigating complex workplace transitions.
